

FBI LAW ENFORCEMENT EXECUTIVE DEVELOPMENT SEMINAR (LEEDS)

Thank you for expressing interest in the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Law Enforcement Executive Development Seminar (LEEDS). The Program was created to provide law enforcement executives an opportunity for advanced leadership training. Only sworn officers currently serving as the Chief Executive of a duly constituted law enforcement agency serving a population of 50,000 or more, and having 50 or more sworn officers will be considered. To ensure the greatest benefit to all who attend the program, participants are required to spend two consecutive weeks in residence at the FBI Academy in Quantico, Virginia. In addition to the above, the applicant must be highly recommended by the Training Coordinator and the Special Agent in Charge of their local FBI field office.

As a participant in the Seminar you will independently and in cooperation with others experience a program that forces you to think about your role as a chief law enforcement executive. During the Seminar you will examine issues of importance to people in this role, experience life-like examination of organizational behavior through media training and share experiences and problems associated with your current position with others attending the Seminar. This experience should help you to put issues into perspective and to develop a variety of potential solutions to the problems you face. While the principles of the Seminar remain the same, course work and other activities change to remain current with the needs of the participants and in consideration of professional trends.

By applying for this program we hope that you will bring with you issues and viewpoints helpful to others with whom you will interact and a mind open to growth from the experience.

INSTRUCTIONS

The information you provide on this application will be used to determine whether you satisfy the requirements for the FBI Law Enforcement Executive Development Seminar. Your application will be compared with that of other applicants. Only 70 - 80 participants are invited annually.
